

PRIVATE ENGLISH LESSONS

Speak English with more confidence.

Lessons built around your goals, level, and real-life needs.

You may understand English well when you read or listen to it, but speaking can still feel difficult.

Maybe you hesitate before answering, translate sentences in your head, struggle to find the right words, or feel unsure about your grammar and pronunciation.

Private lessons can help you change that.

I offer one-to-one English lessons designed around your individual level and goals. Instead of following a generic course, we focus on the areas that will make the biggest difference for you.

DEPENDING ON YOUR NEEDS, LESSONS CAN INCLUDE

Speaking and conversation practice

Grammar and vocabulary

Pronunciation and fluency

Business and professional English

School or exam preparation

Writing and reading skills

English for travel and everyday situations

The aim is not simply to learn more rules.

It is to help you use English more naturally, confidently, and effectively.

Each lesson is adapted to your pace, so you can work on your weaker areas while continuing to build on what you already know.

Whether you want to improve your English for work, education, travel, or personal development, we can create a learning plan that fits your goals.
